Public Invited to Tour Existing Public Safety Building

Tours Offer Public Up-Close Look at Dilapidated Building

SALT LAKE CITY- As part of Salt Lake City's ongoing effort to educate voters about Prop # 1, the Salt Lake City Police Department is inviting the public to tour the current Public Safety Building. Tours occur every Wednesday at 4 p.m.; advance registration is preferred by calling 801-799-3340. Online signup is also available.

The tour will show the public many sites of concern in the current building, including cracked windows, sewage leaks, outdated elevators, and holes in ceilings. Salt Lake City anticipates the tours will provide valuable information to voters as they seek to make an educated decision on Prop #1.

Prop #1 is a proposed $125 million general obligation bond that will pay for a Public Safety Building, underground parking structure and dedicated Emergency Operations Center. New public safety buildings will replace current deteriorated facilities and will be able to withstand earthquakes. Salt Lake City currently does not have a dedicated Emergency Operations Center, leaving residents and businesses highly vulnerable in the event of an emergency or catastrophic event. Prop #1 will be on the November 3, 2009 ballot. For more information, visit:
